THIS IS WASHINGTON

As the guests at an embassy party began to get quite convivial the other night, somebody suggested a song by Jozef Winiewicz, the Polish Ambassador.

"Yes," chimed in Allen Dulles, head of our Central Intelligence Agency. "Do give us a song, Mr. Ambassador. I understand you have an excellent voice."

The faintest suggestion of a smile crossed Ambassador Winiewicz's face as he replied evenly: "You should know, Mr. Dulles. I understand you have several fine recordings of it."
